

Flame Hardening

Double the Life of Your Tools

Get the most from your new tools with factory flame hardening.

Flame hardening, a strongly recommended option which increases point of contact hardness to 50-55 HRC, ensures longer tool life – typically upwards of 100% – 300%.

As an additional service, we can polish the working surfaces to reduce the risk of galling, dimpling and other markings on your products.

